Daily Desktop

It's one thing to have a new wallpaper every day, but it's another to have many wallpaper options at your fingertips. Daily Desktop isn't your run-of-the-mill wallpaper app that will replace the default one for a few hours. Instead, it provides a selection of the most popular photos and artwork on the web, and allows you to quickly change your desktop. You can also change the number of days your wallpaper gets updated to.

How can I fix my Ubuntu 18.04 GRUB? I can't use the menu from my previous Ubuntu. It's a fresh install of Ubuntu 18.04 LTS. Then I've tried to install the new kernel 4.17.4 but it's not working. Here's how I did so: `wget linux-headers-4.17.4-041704-generic_4.17.4-041704.201801311953_amd64.deb` `wget "sudo dpkg -i linux-headers*.deb" "sudo dpkg -i linux-headers-.deb" "sudo dpkg -i linux-image.deb"` - If I restart the system and select the older kernel the system does not start! I've waited for a bit after I installed them but nothing is happening. I've seen that you can downgrade the latest kernel in order to use it but it's not work for me. I've also seen that you can edit some file and update GRUB but I didn't succeed either. I've tried with the grub.cfg and grub.cfg-custom.template files i have a Lenovo ideap 09e8f5149f

Our Daily Desktop wallpaper application is a quick and easy way to update your desktop wallpaper. A young member of the Church in Sweden (SCP) is due to go on trial charged with blasphemy. The charges are, allegedly, based on the fact that some of his writings contain references to the religious superiority of supposedly Christian writers such as Martin Luther. The Stockholm Archdiocese, however, has requested that these charges not be brought to trial, as at the moment, the archdiocese claims the person has done nothing to be ashamed of and they do not want to get involved in prosecution. The Swedish Christian Literature Distributors' Association has defended the person's writings on the grounds that the person has "spread the gospel", and that it is "very healthy" to "question the Church and churches with sharp swords, so that they cease to be inward-turned and dead, so that they may be made to grow like Abraham." The founder of Christafada, the group that aims to produce only Christian literature, has said that the person in question has been told not to talk to the press, and that this is part of a strategy to silence criticism, while he has also said that even if the person is not convicted of blasphemy, it is nonetheless a "blasphemy" that "the common good" is "sacrificed" to the "narrow-mindedness of a few who wish to keep Christianity to themselves". This is not the first time that charges of blasphemy have been brought against a member of a Swedish Church. In 2012, a Church in Gothenburg faced such charges over the fact that its members published a text with the title "Christians in Every Language", which contained the sentence "Christians are not judged on the basis of colour, ethnicity, nationality or language." The Church at the time issued an apology for the fact that the book had been published, and claimed that the Church was not racist, but the Swedish Association of Christian Writers (FADA) disagreed, and said that the Church should have apologized and discussed racism in its own Church.
