It currently contains ten levels (more are planned) and impresses less with gamplay than with funny ideas. It is ideal to fool friends and good for playing in between. 6/10 - Good4 Fools Pretty good! 4/6 - Your opinion So, I had this idea to do some simple game and I have to say that I'm pretty pleased by it, but just the graphics and playability are the things that really stop me. Even if I really liked to play, I'd probably not play more than two or three times before going back to real life. 6/10 - Good4 Fools Really Nice! 5/6 - Your opinion Seriously, this is something that I had to make because of a long time not playing, since I don't have free time for it. I don't know if you are already with this or not but if you're interested in it, just try it. I hope you enjoy it. 6/10 - Good4 Fools Really Really Nice 5/6 - Your opinion This game reminds me of a cartoon like in the story part, a black guy with big afro jumping through various obstacles while trying to make people laugh. The only problem is that it seems a bit too... , with the languages. I mean, who in their right mind is going to read text written in english in-game, and even french is imposible to understand (especially in the first level that I played), so who's the target audience?
