Therapeutic tactics]. The management of patients with a carcinoma of the colon encompasses both diagnostic and therapeutic procedures. These procedures, which are made at a distance and often by different physicians, are sometimes discordant. In this review we review the modern concepts of colonoscopy, multi-detector computed tomography (MDCT), selective arteriography, and surgery. We also present our own experience with endoluminal epinephrine injections and a minimally invasive (8-mm laparotomy) curative resection.Lists of footballers These are lists of footballers. WHAT? Who is that?!?! The subject of this study list is a young, stripling lad named Randall. He apparently enjoys playing games, but is rather unskilled in them...

THIS IS... NOT GOOD.
