Paradise: Great ride I must say. This app is a great game because it helps you understand what makes a theme park what it is. The graphics and sounds of the park are great and help to create that Disneyland feeling. The best thing is that it is free so why not? Very well done. The rides come with different types and the amount of people going on the ride is based on your preferences. The animations are amazing and realistic. This app has a very accurate game play and is fun to play. I really liked this game! I really liked this game! I liked how this was real-world and something I could look up and it was on my phone. The rides I was able to take control of and I liked that! My family played this together and it was a lot of fun. If you have a group of friends that would like to play this and talk to each other, I would recommend that this game be played! Great app! This app has a lot of personality and is fun to play. It's easy to see what's going on in the park and gives you a view of what it would be like to own a theme park

- YouTube Experiment Woody Woodpecker would be proud. I've managed to do some awful experiments on my own time and you have probably done the same. Don't get me wrong, I love a good experiment, whether it goes right or wrong, but I like to have my hands on the steering wheel when I pull the lever. Put me in a cave in a foreign country with no clue what to do and I'd surely fail. That's me. However, being lonely in the big city, the Audubon Society and my youtube account, I decided to give this a go. Anyone can create an account on youtube and watch other people's video's. This has led me to researching the latest trends in "YouTubers." What the heck are they? "YouTube" is really what it says, I assume? You either have your video recorder and upload it or you don't. It's the internet. For those who like "results over flow," I started a new website called Duck Blind Testing. Take a look and let me know if you want to try one of these too. Now let's try to figure out what the heck this is all about. The query to decide all my strategies are all these videos. Let's see how well I did with them. First, I show one that had a "woman." I obviously had the best success with that, because it's always a woman video if it's not a live video. It worked. Next is a dog. This one wasn't that difficult, but coming up with ideas for dogs wasn't as easy as the woman videos. The next was an architect. I actually had some success here. The most difficult one was one that was "Video." This dog is accompanied by birds and the birds are just standing there looking at the ceiling. The second one was a "sportswriter." This one I had the most trouble coming up with ideas for. I feel like there is some stigma surrounding sports. For some reason they keep a little secret from everyone! I did have a success with the “YouTube Model.” The third video was about “YouTube.” I thought I came up with some great ideas. Many of these I
