The best dishes don't come from the back of the house, but they don't have to sit there for days and days because they never get served. And the best cooks know this. So they find a way to feed their guests without the hassle of the kitchen. But what if you're preparing a special meal for a small group, and the tasks of the day seem overwhelming? Or what if you're a cooking, hosting, entertaining, or family person, who feels like there's not enough time to do everything you want? Sometimes you just need a simple way to turn your day around. You don't have to overhaul your entire life to have a kitchen makeover. And you don't need to double or triple your kitchen space if you don't have an expansive kitchen in the first place.

Today, we're sharing 7 ways to make your kitchen a kitchen you can be proud of. Today's guest was Alan Steinshaker. He is an inspiration. He is an entrepreneur and the CEO of Father & Son Branding. He has been featured in books, magazines, and newspapers like New York Magazine and Fast Company. And he's the blogger behind "The Simple Way," which has been featured on the Today Show, as well as a New York Times Best Selling Author. In this episode, Alan shares how he got started with father son branding, as well as his tips on creating an informative, authentic, and fun brand so that everyone will have a reason to recognize you, whether you're a small business owner or not. It all starts with a few simple decisions, like the ones Alan makes today: It all starts with a few simple decisions. What kinds of opportunities are you willing to pursue? What do you want to talk about? Who do you want to connect with? What do you want to do? And
