On today's Hardstyle Presets, you will see how to make a squaking or talking hardstyle/hardcore.Q: How to expand the points of a LineString by using "centroid" function in QGIS I have a polyline shape and i want to expand it by using "centroid" function. I just clicked on the polyline layer and choose centre. After that I see a new layer with the centroid of the polyline. I marked it and want to enlarge the centroids, but I couldn't find the option in the geogalgorithm toolbox. Do you know what option I am looking for? A: I can suggest the following to help you: Use Vector Geometry Tools - Create line from existing vector geometry tool, then in the lower left set it to create line, centroid line and dissolve, then save it as a new layer, you can add it to the selected one. Use Expression to calculate the centroid of a polyline layer as a virtual field in a new layer. Add virtual field by clicking the circle next to the input line of the equation. Change the type to point. Set the calculation field to length and expression to centroid(geometry). With Virtual field to layer, you can add geometry, set transparency and style options (red and blue in the example). var assert = require
