download.PASADENA, Calif. (KABC) -- Police say a man stabbed his daughter to death and a co-worker at their Pasadena home.The Pasadena Police Department said Sunday that the 54-year-old suspect is being questioned about the incident. The suspect's name was not released. The stabbing happened shortly before 3 p.m. Saturday at a home in the 1600 block of

Adams Street.
Witnesses say they heard the stabbing, followed by a woman screaming. One caller described what happened next. "A neighbor showed up and saw the suspect actually stabbing the victim," said Lt. Robert

Gainer. "When they left the residence the suspect threatened another individual, stating that he was going to kill him, too." Inside the home, the suspect then stabbed the victim's co-worker and then police say he stabbed her several times. The unidentified suspect fled the scene, getting into a vehicle that witnesses described as a black SUV. The LAPD did not confirm whether the suspect was a renter
