It is a full-color printed magazine distributed to all students living in Saint Joseph's University housing. The magazine has become an institution among students, alumni and faculty alike. In the fall semester of the 2012-2013 school year the mission of the magazine was expanded to not only focus on athletics and sports, but also the entertainment, humor, and lifestyle articles. This is the third change in the magazine's tenures.

It is the only student-run publication owned by the Knights of Columbus. It is financed by ads placed in the magazine, items that are for sale in the Knight's Pantry, and donations from students in the Parish of Saint Joseph's.

in turkey hens mated with high-producing males]. The study was conducted in a turkey facility equipped with eight aviaries in each of which 16 hens were housed individually. At the age of 24 weeks, the hens received the sire of a rooster with one of two different ovarian functions (AI: artificially inseminated, natural mating (NM): natural insemination). Pairs of male and female turkeys were m
