improved tcp connections — direct tcp connections now listen to all ports and use the tcp timestamps to figure out which ports are currently in use. this allows us to support multiple simultaneous tcp connections with the same socket, such as htp connections. when we find a conflict, we abort the connection. fixed: if you got a lock-up with the 'fatal error, terminating' message, try to force-quit the client. fixed: update/save dialog doesn't flash until you click a folder. fixed: when you press the prm. button, the order isn't saved. fixed: when you are disconnected to a server, during normal operation, you can just press prm. and nothing happens. if you press it though, a general restart is triggered. fixed: if you press prm. when you have multiple torrents going, the dialog will actually show you the list of torrents fixed: if you press reload, if you don't select any folder, then you'll end up with an empty folder name fixed: if the utorrent executable directory is set to a static location and your /e folder is not under it, the desktop icon will actually fail to open. fixed: invalid character in a custom header is now ignored. fixed: if you open a.torrent file that utorrent has already open, it actually closes it instead of opening the new one. redistribution and use of this software and associated documentation ("this software"), or portions thereof, in source and binary forms, without the corresponding copyright notice, without prior written permission, and without limitation as to the times for which such source code may be redistributed or used in compiled form.
