Realtek RTL8187B is a low-profile highly integrated cost-effective Wireless LAN USB 2. I recently upgrade my laptop from Windows 10 to Windows 10 build 1511. At the time of upgrade, I did not able to connect my Realtek RTL8187L-USB to my Windows 10 laptop. I need to connect to a remote desktop server and I can't connect to the RDP server. Thanks in advance. RTL8187L-USB My older laptop (that did not run Windows 10) had its wireless connection automatically saved when I shutdown the computer. After upgrading to Windows 10, my connection was not saved, so I created an offline connection, but I am required to choose a network name, and can't just use the automatically saved name from the Windows 10 compatibility page.
